

The LEGO logo is positioned in the top right corner, featuring the word "LEGO" in white, bold, sans-serif capital letters with a black outline, set against a red square background.The advertisement features a central scene of a LEGO train set at night. A blue and white train engine with a red stripe is on tracks, with several minifigures around it. One minifigure is dressed as a knight on a black horse, holding a spear and a shield with a red and blue design. The background is a dark blue, textured wall. The scene is lit with warm yellow lights from the train and cool blue ambient lighting. A yellow diagonal banner in the bottom left corner contains promotional text. The LEGO logo is in the top right, and a product number is in the bottom right.

Maniac Functions!

Universal Building Sets

You've already discovered how much fun it is to build realistic-looking models with LEGO SYSTEM™ Castle, Pirate, Space, and Town sets.

So just imagine the fun you can have building models that don't just look realistic but have realistic functions!

TECHNIC Universal Building Sets feature mechanically-accurate working pieces you assemble, so your models look and work like the real thing! And these sets are not just for experts, the smaller models are perfect for beginner TECHNIC builders.

Make Your Models Work!

Model Sets

TECHNIC Model Sets contain the same functional elements as Universal sets but also provide building instructions for the realistic models featured on the package. For TECHNIC beginners, try building smaller models like the Speedway Bandit, Night Chopper, or the Mountain Rambler. For advanced TECHNIC builders, try building the Shock Cycle, Shock 'N Roll Racer or the Whirlwind Rescue.

Build moving pistons into the power train on the Shock Cycle!
